GATHER - PEER COMMUNITY

There is power in numbers! Having a people you can refer to, a “go to” person for a business question or challenges you're facing is essential for increasing your success. Peer support and learning is vital to growth as a business person.

GIVE - TO OTHERS

Every business person has strengths, skills and talent. Helping and contributing to others with those strengths can help others with those challenges or gaps in their own set of skills. This is part of being a good business person - giving back and collaborating.

GROW - AS A RESULT

The rule of reciprocity is key to G3. When you give you will in return get back much more. When we help others we help ourselves. Some call it paying it forward, others Karma, and others giving back no matter what it is called it works.
